Southern Teachers is assisting Fishburne Military School as it seeks an experienced educator to become its next Academic Dean. He or she will possess a robust academic vision and a demonstrated positive and effective strategy for supervision and evaluation of instruction and program development.

The Academic Dean is responsible for Fishburne’s overall academic program. Specific responsibilities include the growth and execution of the school’s leadership management and supervision of faculty. He or she will oversee the development and implementation of the annual academic budget. Fishburne’s next Academic Dean will also coordinate with the Virginia Association of Independent Schools (VAIS) and the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) in the supervision and management of the school’s academic program. In addition to his or her administrative duties, the Academic Dean will teach multiple classes.

The ideal candidate will have at least an advanced degree in Education or a related field. Top candidates will have completed at least eighteen semester credit hours of graduate work in educational administration and have ten years of teaching experience.

Fishburne Military School is a private, college-preparatory, military boarding school for boys serving approximately 160 students grades seven through twelve. The school was established in 1879 and is the oldest secondary military school in the United States with a successful JROTC Honor Unit with Distinction. Fishburne’s mission is to “forge honorable young men of courage.”

To apply, please complete the online Application to become a Southern Teachers Candidate and submit a cover letter explaining your interest in and qualifications for this position, which begins in July 2020.
