Southern Teachers is assisting Stone Ridge School of the Sacred Heart (Stone Ridge) in its search for a Director of Educational Technology (EdTech) and Innovation to provide leadership on all technology and innovation initiatives at the school. Reporting directly to the Head of School, this individual will serve as a member of the school’s management team and work with all faculty and staff to ensure that the program and operations reflect the Goals and Criteria of Sacred Heart Education.

The Director of EdTech and Innovation provides oversight and guidance on mission and vision for the EdTech and IT teams. She or he will oversee the work of the Middle and Upper School educational technologists as well as the IT Department to create consistency and to make pedagogy-centered decisions. She or he will also assist the Lower School in EdTech work by providing professional development, team-teaching, and supporting the efforts to integrate technology. The Director coordinates partnership on EdTech/Innovation events and projects; supports divisional heads on technology integration in classroom initiatives; and collaborates with faculty on STEM, STEAM, and Maker Movement projects. She or he will maintain current initiatives, including device programs, K-12 technology course oversight, and the school’s virtual learning program; stay abreast of global technology trends; conduct research within EdTech and Innovation; and provide professional development. The Director will work collaboratively to plan for and execute the school’s technology strategic initiatives and present Stone Ridge’s EdTech work and growth to stakeholders (trustees, parents, faculty, and the larger community).

The ideal candidate understands and respects the teachings and values of the Catholic Church, has teaching experience in independent and/or Catholic schools, and holds an advanced degree. She or he is an excellent communicator and possesses strong skills of organization, follow-through, flexibility, and collaboration. This individual has a passion for adult education; expertise with virtual/hybrid learning; and familiarity with trends in educational technology and social media. Experience with computer science, coding, and robotics are desired skills.

Stone Ridge School of the Sacred Heart, a member of the Network of Sacred Heart Schools, is a Catholic, independent, college-preparatory school for girls, grades one through twelve, with a co-educational Early Childhood Program. Established in 1923, the school serves approximately 750 students on its 35-acre campus in Bethesda, Maryland, which offers a peaceful space for girls to learn, play, pray, compete, and grow. Rooted in the goals of Sacred Heart education, Stone Ridge inspires young women to lead and serve through lives of purpose that integrate faith, intellect, community, social action, and personal growth in an atmosphere of wise freedom.

To apply, please complete the online Application to become a Southern Teachers Candidate and submit a cover letter explaining your interest in and qualifications for this position, which begins in July 2020.
