Southern Teachers is assisting The Parish School with its search for a Head of Early Childhood to oversee the program for children ages two through six who have communicational delays and learning differences. The Head of Early Childhood works closely with the Head of Elementary as well as the social-emotional support specialists and the Directors of Student and Family Services, Admissions, Integrated Arts and Sciences, and the Carruth Center.

The Head of Early Childhood reports to the Head of School and directly supervises teachers, speech-language pathologists, and paraeducators. He or she oversees the academic and therapeutic curricula, in-service training, professional development in Hanen programming, and the early childhood instructional budget. The Head serves as an integral part of the students’ teams, reviewing student progress reports, participating in parent communications, and maintaining records; and in coordination with the safety and health coordinator, maintains daycare licensure standards for the early childhood program. He or she serves as first contact for early childhood parents needing administrative support and serves as a representative of the school in outside networking groups.

Candidates must hold graduate degrees in early childhood education or speech-language pathology. They should be detail-oriented and have strong management and communication skills and the ability to solve complex problems relating to staff, students, or parents.

Founded in 1983 and located on a 17-acre campus in West Houston, The Parish School serves 140 students from ages two through twelve and provides special services including speech-language, art, music, occupational, and canine therapy. The Parish School is associated with The Carruth Center to help provide pediatric therapy and assessment.

To apply, please complete the online Application to become a Southern Teachers Candidate and submit a cover letter explaining your interest in and qualifications for this position, which begins in July 2022.
