Lower School Principal
Savannah Christian Preparatory School
Savannah, Georgia

savcps.com

Southern Teachers is assisting Savannah Christian Preparatory School as it seeks a lower school principal to collaborate with the headmaster and a strong leadership team as SCPS moves into an exciting new phase of its institutional life. The lower school principal will play a vital role in achieving SCPS's vision of becoming Savannah's premiere PK-12 school. Currently, SCPS enrolls 460 students in prekindergarten through grade five. The lower school curriculum prepares students for spiritually engaged, healthy lives of intellectual curiosity, responsible citizenship, creative expression, ethical leadership, and compassionate service.

Candidates for the lower school principal position must hold advanced degrees in appropriate fields and have records of success as teachers and school leaders. They must have excellent communication skills; clear understanding of best curricular practices in academically rigorous settings; love for working with students, faculty, and parents; and dedication to fostering the values that support a Christian school community. They must exhibit resilience, flexibility, a sense of humor, and a commitment to working in a collaborative and fast-paced environment.

The principal must be a professing Christian who has a biblically-sound salvation experience that is clearly communicated; who practices a solid personal faith-walk and is active in his or her chosen denomination and local church; who holds a core belief in biblical integration within a framework of academics and can implement and expand such a framework; who can create, direct, and maintain a total program that provides continuity and training to prepare students competitively; and who leads through service, encouragement, and strength.

SCPS is a college preparatory school with over 1000 students in preschool through grade twelve. Founded as the Evangelical Bible Institute with eight boarding students in 1951, SCPS today has more than 3500 alumni, nearly 1800 students on campus every day, nearly 1400 current family households, and more than 200 employees. Alumni live in 435 cities spread out among 45 states as well as 23 cities in sixteen foreign countries and five continents around the world. The school remains true to its mission: to develop the whole person to the glory of God.
