Dean of Faculty
The Webb School
Bell Buckle, Tennessee

thewebbschool.com

Southern Teachers is assisting The Webb School as it seeks a charismatic, energetic, flexible new Dean to lead, coordinate, and oversee all areas involving the school's faculty. The Dean of Faculty reports directly to the Head of School and oversees the program of faculty growth and evaluation, coaches faculty to improve, assists in departmental budgets, plans academic workshops, and remains aware of professional development opportunities, teacher conferences, and seminars. He or she attends some board of trustees meetings and all faculty and administrative council meetings, as well as workshops, seminars, conferences, and retreats. The Dean may also teach one or two classes.

Candidates must have relevant experience in educational settings; familiarity with independent school culture; strong organizational, leadership, decision-making, and supervisory skills; and basic computer skills. They must be able to read, write, and communicate effectively in English, and they must be able to follow directions and give clear directions with appropriate follow-up. The Dean must be able to work with parents, students, faculty, and staff in a cooperative, courteous, and professional manner and be willing to maintain confidentiality of matters learned in the course of work. Candidates holding advanced degrees are preferred.

Founded in 1870, The Webb School is a day-boarding school of approximately 315 students in grades six through twelve. Students come to Webb from all over the world, seeking a college-preparatory liberal arts education. With ten Rhodes Scholars among its graduates, Webb is known by colleges and universities as a reliable producer of well-rounded, prepared students and has a reputation of being one of the nation's top private schools. The small school community's emphasis on honor truly creates a "Character of Home." The 150-acre campus is located in a rural setting fifty miles southeast of Nashville. Boarding students, comprising about one-third of the school's enrollment, currently come from twelve U.S. states and twelve countries.
